

March 10, 2015 -- Emergency Services Headquarters

The Randolph County Board of Commissioners met in a special meeting at 4:00 p.m. on March 10, 2015, in the Randolph County Office Building Training Room, 725 McDowell Rd., Asheboro. Little Diversified Architectural Consulting and Wright Architecture presented the schematic design for the new Emergency Services headquarters and encouraged input from the Board and County staff as they move forward into the design phase. Commissioners Kemp and Allen were present. Commissioners Frye, Haywood and Lanier were absent. Since there was no quorum of County Commissioners, no official meeting was held.

Also present were County Manager Hal Johnson; Finance Officer Will Massie; Associate Attorney Aimee Scotton, Public Works Director Paxton Arthurs, Emergency Services Director Donovan Davis, Emergency Services Deputy Director Lewis Schirloff, IT Director Michael Rowland, Infrastructure Services Manager Daniel Shue and Clerk to the Board Amanda Varner. Also present were Eric Schoenagel and Charles Todd of Little Diversified Architectural Consulting, as well as Mark Wright and Tony Pacholski of Wright Architecture.
